Ms. Snyder,

I hope all is well! Thank you for the environment you have made through the IB program. I know that both my classmates and I are so grateful for all of the support that this program provides to us, and truly do not know what we would do without it. Every one of the teachers truly cares about us and conversations over the past few days have really conveyed that. Our classes have, and continue to be, so beneficial and eye-opening. I just wanted to make sure that you know how appreciative we are of both you and this program. Thank you so much!

Best,

[REDACTED]
knowledge you gain.

AP and IB: What's the same?

- Both are rigorous, college-preparatory courses
- Both culminate in assessment by a body outside the school, resulting in a score
- Both offer the opportunity to earn college credit/placement based on that score
- Both carry a 1.2 weight at Central
- The colleges I spoke to (Harvard, Penn, Swarthmore, Drexel, University of Chicago and Boston University) say they view AP courses and IB courses as equivalent

Difference in Mission

College Board Mission Statement:

- “The College Board’s mission is to connect students to college success and opportunity...committed to excellence and equity in education.”

IB Mission Statement:

- “The IB aims to develop inquiring, knowledgeable, and caring young people who create a better and more peaceful world through intercultural understanding and respect...who understand that other people, with their differences, can also be right.”

Differences in Assessment

AP score:

- Based on one test on one day

IB score:

- Based on multiple tests over 2 days
- AND At least one project that the student works on over time
- Language A and B courses also include oral assessment
